

A WARRIOR'S RELIGION

a film by Mani Amar

The South Asian community in Greater Vancouver has been shaken by youth and gang violence. Grim statistics, such as the death of more than 100 South Asian males in their 20s over the past 19 years, show the magnitude of this epidemic.

Sikhism is a predominant religion in the South Asian community in Greater Vancouver. And, statistics show that most of the gang-related murder victims were Sikh. Youth and gang violence is not slowing down; violent crimes have been increasing significantly in this community over the past few years.

By creating much needed awareness, we have the ability to protect our youth.

Sincerely,

Mani Amar
